Certified, Audited, and Compliant

Food Grade, GMP, HAZMAT, & Temperature-Controlled warehousing at your service. Sub-par handling and storage of your product can result in damage to your brand and your business. Federal Regulation violations can disrupt your supply chain and expose you to heavy penalties.

Choosing Porter as your Atlanta DTC eCommerce Fulfillment 3PL safeguards against costly fines and demonstrates commitment to your customers and your reputation

CASE IN POINT

US eCommerce Retailer Contracts Porter Logistics to handle Import, Devanning Containers, & Direct to Consumer eCommerce Fulfillment in Atlanta

The Challenge

A retailer + manufacturer of bedding (e.g., mattresses, frames, sheets) needed a 3PL partner to Import floor-loaded containers from Turkey into the Port of Savannah, palletize the product and make it available in active stock, and then fulfillment the items directly into their customers homes via Fedex. Porter needed to integrate with multiple channels (eCommerce + Brick and Mortar) This client had consistently high volumes inbound and outbound, needing a close proximity to Ports as well as carrier terminals for quick and easy eCommerce Fulfillment out of Atlanta. They also needed returns processing of damaged and returned product.

How we Helped

Porter Logistics dove right into the requirements, traveling across the country to observe other partner warehouses to understand best practices and specific peculiarities around the client's products and processes. After reviewing processes, Porter set up the pick path & layout in our eCommerce fulfillment warehouse in Atlanta. Porter contracted Fedex to drop 3 trailers every day, all of which would be used for direct to consumer fulfillment out of their Atlanta terminals. We set up frequent devanning of containers, and enforced a 6 hour dock to stock rule, getting product unloaded from ocean containers and available for shipping as soon as humanly possible.

Results

The client is thrilled, commenting that Porter is the top 3PL in their network. Going on three+ years as of 2024, the client is thrilled with our performance. This is a permanent partnership and Porter is a critical part of their Global supply chain.

"We really value Porter Logistics as a strategic partner, the experience has been smooth since the very beginning and they've handled every wrinkle we've thrown at them"
