CASE IN POINT

Largest Chemical Company in the World Uses Porter Logistics for Import, Export, Distribution, and Manufacturing Plant Support

The Challenge

One of the largest chemical companies in the world needed a full 3PL Warehousing partner for HAZMAT Chemicals in Atlanta. Their manufacturing plant produces 100's of SKU's at scale across various Hazard classes and product was piling up at the end of the production line. Porter needed to warehouse imported materials, supply the plant with high volume daily shuttles, and then receive finished product across various Hazard classes. Porter then needed to distribute this product across the United States - fulfilling orders of drums, pails, IBC's, Bags, supersacks, and various form factors. Porter was also asked to provide export services to APAC, EMEA, & the Americas.

How we Helped

Porter Logistics dove right into the requirements, traveling across the country to observe other partner warehouses to understand best practices and specific peculiarities around the client's products and processes. After reviewing process, Porter began diving into MSDS requirements - gaining a clear and complete understanding of Hazard classes, flash points, and unique storage requirements. Porter was able to meet the diverse HAZMAT certified warehouse needs in Atlanta through a combination of 1) flame room for flammables and combustibles, 2) heated and cooled rooms for temperature sensitive product, and 3) the processes necessary to ensure the client stayed compliant with regulatory rules and internal SLA's. Porter also exports Drums, IBC's, Bags, and other form factors via containers to various customers across the world.

Results

The client is thrilled, commenting that Porter is by far the best chemical warehouse in Atlanta that they've ever worked with. Going on three+ years as of 2024, the client is thrilled with our performance. This is a permanent partnership and Porter is a critical part of their Global supply chain.

"If I have my way (and I will), we will never leave Porter. I never have to worry about you guys"
